POLITICAL.

Notwithstanding the fact that there will not be an election for any office either municipal or state for at least six months, and this a primary, the candidates and their friends are much on the hustle as if the vote would be cast tomorrow. Not so much is their animation in the legislative fight (and the candidates for this office are by no means idle) but for the office of governor of Virginia. This contest up to the present is being waged by Messrs. Tucker, Stuart and Mann. The issues they represent are similar. All of them favor the right of the people to choose between licensed saloons and no license in their respective localities—and well they may stand on this, for if they did not, either's chance of election would be slim indeed. Each of them is opposed to estate wide prohibition—a condition eagerly sought by the anti-saloon league and its followers. Judge Mann has been weighed in the balance by this league and not found wanting and with this league the other two men are experiments. This, to the close observer, means the endorsement of Judge Mann by the anti-saloon league. When it is remembered that at least two-thirds of the state is controlled by the anti-saloon element the temperance people say it does not take a prophet to tell that Judge William Hodges Mann will be the next candidate for governor on the democratic ticket. That he would be the strongest, they claim there is little doubt. He would, they say, poll the entire temperance strength, both in the democratic and republican parties and there is a strong intimation that in the event of Judge Mann's nomination that the republican party—which is stronger in its tendencies for temperance reform than the democratic party—would decline to nominate a candidate against him. If he is not nominated then they would have a chance to nominate a man on a state wide prohibition platform and endeavor to carry the state.

The friends of Messrs. Tucker and Stuart, however, controvert the claims made by the friends of Judge Mann, and say that their respective candidates will win out in the primary.

INSTALLED.

Installation of officers of Kenzie Council, No. 190, Catholic Women's Benevolent Legion, took place at the residence of Mrs. J. S. Roche yesterday evening. The installing officer, Miss Bonnell, supreme chancellor, of Baltimore, was assisted by Mrs. Helen McQuay, district deputy, of Washington. After the meeting a delightful supper was served by the hostess.

The Red Cross Shoes for tender feet. The ladies who wear the Red Cross shoe always wear a smile. Sold only by J. A. Marshall & Bro., 422 King street.

HIGH WINDS.

At an early hour last night the wind came out from the northwest and sick ragged clouds sailing across the face of the moon. After midnight old Boreas broke out in all his fury. The wind came in heavy fits and raged throughout the remainder of the night. No serious damage, however, resulted. Some shingles were blown from roofs, bricks dislodged from chimneys, limbs twisted from trees and fencing damaged. A frame house near Braddock Heights was moved from its foundation, and part of a windmill in the same neighborhood was carried away. The Norfolk steamer was about two hours late in reaching this port, owing to the high winds in the bay and river.

OUT OF BUSINESS.

Because the association has been doing a regular industrial life and sick benefit business, whereas its charter authorizes it to do only a lodge business, Insurance Commissioner Patton has refused to renew the license of the Old Dominion Protective Association, a Virginia corporation, with nominal offices in Alexandria, but whose headquarters are in Washington. For some time Colonel Burton has suspected the company of violations of its charter and he secured a list of its policy-holders, and through them learned that not a single one had been initiated as a member of any fraternal lodge of which the Old Dominion Association had control.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Margaret Robinson, wife of Mr. Walter Robinson, died at her home in Fairfax county, a short distance west of this city, last night. She was 21 years old. She was a daughter of Mr. John and Mrs. Emma Brady. Her funeral will take place in Fairfax county on Saturday.

Major Johnson, colored, an old and respected resident of this city, died at his home, No. 603 south Fairfax street, yesterday afternoon. The deceased was paralyzed a few days ago.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.] The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Four men—three white and one colored—were before the Police Court this morning, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. In the case of disorderly conduct the warrant was withdrawn and the accused dismissed. Another delinquent was dismissed, one was fined $5 and the other sent to jail for 20 days.

HIGH CLASS VAUDEVILLE.

When the day's work is over and the head of the house, whether it be husband or wife, wishes to dispel thoughts of the duties incident to housework or the shop, there is no better place to visit than the Alexandria Opera House. Not only are you highly entertained by fun-making artists of the first order but you have a chance to witness the best motion pictures extant. Each night brings a change of programme which makes this house one of the most popular in this city.

HIGHLY ENTERTAINED.

Hardly had the sun passed over the new George Washington Park yesterday when the people began to crowd to the Alexandria Amusement Company and from the expressions on their faces when they emerged the show must be good. The talking pictures were first class and highly amusing, and the silent pictures shown at this house are the best that can be secured. Tonight there will be a change of programme and everybody is invited.

KILLED BY EXPLOSION.

One man, A. Burns, colored, 40 years old, was killed and four injured yesterday afternoon by the premature explosion of a charge of dynamite on the line of the new Western Maryland Railroad, about a half mile below Chain bridge. One of the injured men may die. The explosion was caused by ramming sticks of dynamite into a hole with an iron bar instead of a wooden "rammer." Burns was buried beneath rocks and clods of dirt.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CHARTERED.

The State Corporation Commission yesterday granted a charter to the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce. The purpose of the association as set forth in the charter is to develop the commercial interests in the city. The sum of $15,000 is named as the capital stock. Officers are as follows: W. A. Smoot, president; J. T. Johnson, vice-president; J. T. Preston, secretary and treasurer.

ELITE PICTURE COMPANY.

There are pictures and pictures but to reach the highest standard in this line one would have to pay a visit to the Elite Picture Company. Without doubt the pictures are the largest to be seen and the singing of Edward Clark, the black face comedian, last night, was beyond description and much enjoyed. Tonight there will be an entire change of programme. If you want to see a real good show go to the Elite tonight.

PROPERTY SALES.

Messrs. M. B. Harlow & Co., Inc., have sold for the owners the following properties: Three lots to Mr. J. R. N. Curtin, at Cottage Park, adjoining Braddock Heights; lot on west side of Royal, between Princess and Oranoco streets, to Fannie L. Johnson.

STORE ROBBERED.

The store of Birkley Richards, at Annandale, Fairfax county, was entered by thieves last night and robbed of 1,500 pounds of bacon and a saddle and some harness. The police of this city have been requested to look out for the thieves.

The Hess Hopkins FOOT FORM SHOES makes life a pleasure. Sold only by J. A. Marshall & Bro., 422 King street.

W. P. WOOLLS & SON, Royal and Wolfe streets.

PERSONAL.

Capt. A. J. Fair, who has recently been seriously ill at his home on Wolfe street, was yesterday removed to a Washington hospital.

Miss Basie Jones is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. Praser Tabb, of West Mount Royal avenue, Baltimore.

Miss Sasie Yates left Wednesday morning for a short visit to Mrs. Blanche Sansbury at Alexandria.—[Fredericksburg Star.]

Miss Nannie Norton left for Richmond today, to visit her sister, Mrs. Sasie.

The Junior Matinee Five Hundred Club was entertained yesterday afternoon by Miss Mary Sawnden at her home on King street. The prizes were won by Misses Hattie Douglas and Kattie Barrett.

Mrs. William J. Boothe, Jr., yesterday afternoon entertained at bridge in honor of her sister, Mrs. George Garr Heory, of New York.

Miss Cummings this afternoon entertained at bridge at her residence on Cameron street.

Dr. A. E. Gorman, district deputy, paid an official visit last night to Petersburg Council, Knights of Columbus, and installed the newly elected officers.

The seat of Bryce Moses on the Washington Stock Exchange was sold at auction a few days ago to Mr. Carroll Pierce, of Alexandria, for $5,400.

CORPORATION COURT.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.] Commonwealth vs. Charles Dean, charged with purchasing stolen goods; jury and case in progress.

Dean is indicted for larceny in connection with the purchase of whisky alleged to have been stolen from the Southern Railway. The case was called yesterday and occupied the attention of the court all day. Court adjourned late yesterday afternoon until today and the jury was locked up overnight. The alleged theft of a barrel of whisky occurred July 18 last. The fact that the jury was placed in the custody of the city sergeant when court adjourned, instead of being released temporarily, with the usual admonition to refrain from discussing the case with any one, has been the subject of some comment. The case was given to the jury at 3:45 o'clock this evening without argument.

WEDDING.

A very impressive wedding ceremony took place last evening at 7:30 o'clock at the residence of St. Mary's Church, the parties being Miss Marie L. Travers, daughter of the late Capt. Thomas B. Vaughn, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Vaughn, of Fauquier county, Va. The bride was charmingly gowned in a London smoke suit with hat and gloves to match and carried bride roses. After the ceremony they drove to the home of the bride where bountiful refreshments were served. Mr. Vaughn is and has been for the past seven years a conductor on the Washington division of the Southern Railway. The popularity of both the bride and groom was shown by the many handsome wedding presents they received.

ROW IN COUNCIL.

There is said to have been considerable excitement in the Potomac Council a few nights ago, which was started by the alleged disorderly conduct of a member who refused to take his seat when ordered to do so by the mayor, who was presiding. Several members became participants in the tumult which followed, and considerable unconventional language was used by certain members. One of the parties was yesterday brought before a justice of the peace and fined $5. He took an appeal from the decision.

FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late S. B. Grove, who was killed by the overturning of a carload of lumber in the Potomac freight yards Monday night, took place from the residence, 211 north Payne street, this afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Humphreys and the pallbearers were Messrs. J. C. Murphy, C. Burrell, William Murphy, George W. Sunkle, E. B. Smith and G. W. Dent. The interment was made in Bethel cemetery.

SUIT.

In the Circuit Court for the city today Mr. Douglas Stuart for Mr. Garret E. Sullivan entered suit against the W. A. & M. V. Ry. Co. for $10,000 damages for personal injuries alleged to have been sustained by an accident on that road in this city on the night of February 27 last.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The case of the Columbia Marine Railway Company against the steamer Trenton, which was to have been heard in the United States Court for the Eastern district of Virginia, this city, has been transferred to Norfolk and will be heard in that city today.

The honor of the family. The guests had all arrived. The luncheon hour had already passed and the hostess ordered. Maybe she wasn't mad. Phew! she was simply boiling over. Just think of what her guests would say when they found she hadn't anything to eat in the house. Most of them had simply come to be fed (as usual). But honor of the family was saved when the front door bell rang and out there stood the wagon from the Auth Stand with a plentiful supply of those delicious Auth's Sausages and Hams, Sylvan Blenheim, The Auth Stand, City Market.

A resident of New Market has written to Chief Jones of the police force asking him to notify all liquor dealers not to sell any strong drinks to her husband, who is on the "abstinent list."

A little play entitled "Blossoms" will be given at Christ Church Parish Hall tomorrow night by the Christ Church Guild of Ministering Children's League. The proceeds will be used for a cot at the Alexandria Hospital. Mrs. O. F. Carter has the management of the affair in charge.

The ladies of the Methodist Protestant Church will give an oyster supper at Odd Fellows' Hall, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of this week. Supper will be served from 5:30 to 11 o'clock. All those who have patronized the supper given by these ladies in the past know of a truth that everything is beautifully served and the inner man is thoroughly satisfied with good things.
